

Pediatric Vitiligo Support Group

The Pediatric Vitiligo Support Group is a new group that gives support to families and guardians of children ages 6 to 18 who have been diagnosed with vitiligo.

What is Vitiligo

Vitiligo is a skin condition that occurs when the body's immune system attacks the cells and causes patches of skin to become a white or milky-white color. It can also change the color of hair and the inside of the mouth.

When and where will the group meet

This group will meet at the Lucille Packard Children's Hospital Stanford Main Building once a quarter on a Saturday morning. Each meeting will be 2 hours.

What are some topics talked about in this group

Topics may include:

- Living with vitiligo.
- Parenting a child with vitiligo.
- New developments in vitiligo.

Can my child come with me

Yes, children ages 6 to 18 are welcome to come to the meeting.

More information about the Pediatric Vitiligo Support Group

To learn more about the Pediatric Vitiligo Support Group, scan the QR code to be added to our mailing list and for more details about our next meeting.

